Welcome to the latest edition off the Goff Gazette. Keeping you informed of the latest developments here at Team JG

All going to plan after the opening 2 rounds

The first 2 rounds of the 2010 Renault Clio Cup with Michelin saw Jack in great form coming home 9th in his first race on Saturday and 8th in the second race on Sunday.

After a difficult wet dry wet qualifying session Jack found himself in 9th position. Race 1 was Jack's first really competitive drive behind the wheel of the new Clio and his task was to keep out of trouble and stay in the top 10, this he did finishing in 9th position and earning himself 12 championship points.

Look mum 3 wheels ☺

Race 2 on Sunday saw Jack dropping from 9th to 13th position after a slide on the first lap, but Jack's character showed through as he quickly made his way up to 8th position amid furious racing, earning another 14 championship points and leaving him in 9th place overall in the championship.

"We have a strategic plan for Jack to cover his first season in the Clio's," said Jonathan Walters, team manager, "we are delighted with Jack's performance in the first 2 rounds, this leaves him exactly where we hoped, we are looking forward to the next 2 rounds at Rockingham on 24th & 25th of April".

Video of Sunday's race is available here but lacks commentary unfortunately.

Looking forward to rounds 3 & 4 at Rockingham

After difficult opening rounds where race schedules were shortened by the organizers we are hopeful of a better outing with longer qualifying session and races at Rockingham. We have been advised by championship coordinators that qualifying has been extended to 30 minutes and both Rockingham races on Saturday and Sunday will be 25 minutes each. This extra length coupled to Jack's smooth driving style (as you can see from the attached photos) should see him come to the fore towards the end of the longer races.

Look mum only two now ☺

We have included a few links that will help you find event tickets, directions to the circuit and nearby accommodation.

The race schedule is available here but this has not been updated to reflect the longer races and qualifying session.
