STOKENCHURCH teenager Jack Goff will race in the Elf Renault Clip Cup Championship this season after signing up with the Leicester-based Pyro team this week.

Goff has won his contract after impressing the Championship-winning team over a series of tests at Thruxton, where he consistently pushed seasoned Pyro driver Dave Newsham to the line.

Team principal Mark Hunt said: "Jack is a very accomplished and mature driver who has acres of ability and talent with even more enthusiasm.

"Overall we are very happy with Jack's testing performances."

Goff said: "I cant wait for the 2010 season to kick off in April. I am feeling really confident for this year after our recent testing performances. The car has been superbly set up every time we have hit the track and I cant wait to bring them some positive results."
