Clio Cup: Jack Goff has signed up with Championship winning Team Pyro for the 2010 Elf Renault Clio Cup Championship with Michelin. After a successful test at Thruxton last Friday Team Pyro will run Jack alongside Clio Cup regular Dave Newsham. Jack tested alongside Newsham over the last two weeks getting within 0.1 seconds of his more experienced team mate more than once. Pyro team principal Mark Hunt said "Jack is a very accomplished and mature driver who has acres of ability and talent with even more enthusiasm, overall we are very happy with Jack's testing performances, we have more testing prior to the season start and we just need to make sure that come the races we can qualify near the front." Jack said "I can't wait for the 2010 season to kick off in April at Thruxton, we have managed to secure some great backing from existing sponsors and brought some new sponsor's into "the family. I cannot thank them enough for getting me on the grid this season, I now just want to get racing to show them what I am capable of and that will hopefully bring more potential sponsors on board. I am feeling really confident for this year after our recent testing performances with Team Pyro, the car has been superbly set up every time we have hit the track and I can't wait to bring them some positive results."
